

Criteria 3.2.1

Ecosystem for innovations and initiatives

For creation and transfer of knowledge

3.2.1- Institute has created an ecosystem for innovations and initiatives for creation and transfer of knowledge.

- 1. Ecosystem for innovations in St. Rocks
- 2. St. Rocks initiatives for creation of knowledge
- 3. St. Rocks initiatives for transfer of knowledge

1. Ecosystem for innovations in St. Rocks

St. Rocks is professional institution for nurturing professional students for corporate industry. St. Rocks has an ecosystem for innovation. To study new processes, learn new technologies and implementing innovative ideas for better results. Recent proposition of ecosystem aims to rethink the traditional way of thinking.

2. St. Rocks initiatives for creation of knowledge

Research conference

St. Rocks' knowledge workers and their mentees have devoted themselves to the preparation of this research conference. For students, it was thought to be a process of churning and nurturing. The knowledge conference results in a contribution to students' increased knowledge. This national conference has provided all of the principles, which will aid students in considering them.

IT Labs

IT department helps students by providing them with technology assistance around the clock including education marketing that may not be available in traditional textbooks . It can be used for audio visual learning, research. Online learning, maintaining records, making documents and learning new technologies. Students can use apps and software to organize their schedules and assignments, set reminders and manage their time.

3. St. Rocks initiatives for transfer of knowledge

1. A) Rocking Dolphs (RD)

Rocking Dolphs is a cultural fest that is a tradition that promotes cultural appreciation, global awareness and heritage preservation. Cultural festivals in St. Rocks provide students a platform to showcase their talent in area such as music, art, dance, etc. It can help them keep their one foot firmly rooted in their culture, while offering learning opportunities and develop interpersonal skills.

B) Annual Sports

It encourages physical activities and promotes physical health. It develops healthy competitive spirit, it also boosts alertness, discipline, team spirit, mental ability and concentration. It keeps them positive, fresh and energetic.

Our sports day includes indoor games like chess, carom, badminton and outdoor games like cricket, rink football, kabbdie etc

2. Continuous Research Innovations Review

St. Rock's faculty and students keep themselves busy in creation of new knowledge. It leads to continuous research innovations and review through various events which completes the cycle of innovation ecosystem to create knowledge.
